WORKING WITH VOICES

A TWO-DAY EXPERIENTIAL WORKSHOP WITH RON COLEMAN

Ron Coleman returns to Ann Arbor to teach methods that he & many others have used in their own recovery from serious psychological problems. This workshop brings together mental health workers & people who hear voices for 2 days of learning & exploration. Ron shows how to create a safe environment, a space free of hierarchies & labeling, in which diverse ideas can be heard.

GOALS OF THE WORKSHOP:

To learn practical skills to increase self-understanding, such as voice profiling; to learn how voice hearing can be seen as a means of coping with difficult experiences; &, to learn ways people can begin to change their relationship with voices to regain choice & control in life. "Working With Voices" also fosters connection among voice hearers & their supporters.

ABOUT THE TRAINER

Ron Coleman lived for 13 years with a diagnosis of schizophrenia (6 of those years in psychiatric hospitals). He is a clinician, author, a tireless advocate of recovery through self-help, former national coordinator of Hearing Voices Network (Great Britain), & co-director of Working to Recovery, a mental health resource & training organization based in Scotland. Ron is a compelling & empathic teacher who has trained thousands of people over the past 19 years in innovative ways to work with voices & unusual beliefs. His workshops have been called life-changing & transformative.

ABOUT THE TRAINING

"Working With Voices" is a small experiential workshop in which voice profiling & voice dialogue will be practiced in an accepting environment. These methods have been used for 25 years in Europe & practiced in Hearing Voices Network self help groups in many countries. Ron will coach participants in exploration of voices, assisted by psychologist, Dr. Rebecca Hatton. If you were intrigued by Ron's workshop last year or Rebecca's trainings on recovery, Ron's second Michigan workshop offers the next step in developing recovery-oriented skills.

STRUCTURE OF TRAINING

The workshop is limited to 15 voice hearers or "experts by experience", to ensure sufficient individual attention, & up to 30 mental health workers. Participants should register in twos or threes, including a person who hears voices & 1 or 2 supporters. Ideally, staff & therapy partners who know each other can register together & will be able to continue working together after the training. People who register singly will be grouped appropriately for purposes of training.
